New Building Project Update

The parish's finance committee has asked and been granted a $25,000.00 loan from the diocese to complete three Spring building projects. The first project is to fix the foundation wall at the North-side entrance of the church which has cracked and there is water seepage below the stairwell. The second project is to resurface the parish hall with new tiles and to fix any areas which the wood underneath has softened. The final project is to fix the wooden fence which encloses the second-floor rectory deck. The bishop has graciously exempted the fundraising for these projects from the annual calculation of the diocesan administrative expense (the tax which all parishes pay the diocese based on annual revenue). Therefore, please use your building fund envelopes each month. The monies in that fund will be used for the repayment of the diocesan loan. Thank you for your generosity and your participation in helping to keep our church in tip top shape! --- Fr Sam

Pastoral Pondering

Mercy! That's what this weekend is about! God's unfathomable, limitless mercy on us sinners! God didn't have to create the universe. God didn't have to create us human beings in his image and likeness. God didn't have to show mercy to us when we sinned. He could have just blinked us out of existence. He could have chosen to remain in the bliss and joy of Heaven. But God is a God of mercy! He comes into our world as a baby! He grows up in wisdom and knowledge and shows us how we can be servants of God 24/7! God shows us too, how we can get up when we have fallen, and how we can lift others up as well, who are weakened by the stresses and the burdens of this life! And for the disciples in our Gospel for this weekend, he has mercy on their lack of faith and appears in front of them! He has mercy on their insecurities and offers them his peace! He gives them courage to believe in the power of his resurrection and to believe that they too, share in the new life his death brought to this world! That's how God's mercy works! When we think we can no longer go on, when we think that we are hopelessly lost, God comes to us with his mercy and shows us what it means to be beloved and precious in his sight! What a great gift is God's mercy! May we learn from Jesus' example and be persons of mercy ourselves. A pastoral pondering as we celebrate the final day of the Octave of Easter.
